Guo Wei

He Duoling

30 July – 12 September 2004
Preview Thursday 29 July 6pm – 8pm

Having exhibited the work of Guo Wei in our touring exhibition, Representing the People (1998) we are delighted to be showing his new work alongside that of his friend and mentor He Duoling.

Reflecting on his training in drawing Guo Wei's work, with its focus on aspects of everyday life, pays close attention to movement and posture. In his latest series he once again takes teenagers as the subject, capturing what he calls their 'yes business'. Through body language his paintings capture the humour of interrelationships; the cheeky side glances, the mocking laughter, the indifference and the striving for attention.
