CHINESE ARTS CENTRE EVENT
Exchanging Photographs for Memories
Tuesday 6 June 6 – 8pm

David Lau - Exchanging Photographs for Memories

In part of David Lau's residency, he invites the members of the public to bring a selection of any photos to share during his 2-week residency at Chinese Arts Centre. The photos may be of people, landscapes or have a personal story attached to it. Members of the public will be asked to write at least 100 words about their photos, which will be given with the photos to exchange for one of David's prints. David will make a series of new prints from the photos, which will be exhibited alongside the photographs, unless they are related to their names at the end of the residency. They will however be allowed to keep their photographs with David, and it is even an ideal for installation areas that draw inspiration from the 20th movement and New Realism's Simulacra and Simulacra Theory.
